

BIOMETRICS INSTITUTE OFFERS PRIVACY IMPACT ASSESSMENTS FOR MEMBERS

The Biometrics Institute can help you make an informed decision about the introduction of biometrics and put you in touch with the Biometrics Institute members who can supply the technology.

WHY A PIA?

The PIAs are designed to be conducted quickly and without fuss and are a guarantee that your organisation has conducted due diligence in terms of assessing the privacy impact of any new business. It is a standard template that is adjusted to your organisations environment. It is also your insurance against accusations that you are privacy lax when it comes to new business; a vital question which may be asked of you by Parliamentary Committees, the media or courts of law. The Australian Privacy Commissioner has accepted the Biometrics Institute Privacy Code and government agencies and the private sector will find that Privacy Impact Assessments (PIAs) and audits are either compulsory or a "must do".

PIAs AS A SERVICE TO MEMBERS

The Biometrics Institute offers members Privacy Impact Assessments (PIAs) at about a third of the cost in the market place. For members, any moves towards the use of biometrics should be accompanied by one of these assessments so, the Biometrics Institute has commissioned Aulich & Co to design and conduct Privacy Impact Assessments for its members.

WHO CONDUCTS THE PIAs?

The Hon Terry Aulich is the Biometrics Institute's strategic and privacy advisor and was a driving force behind the Privacy Act, the establishment of the Privacy Commission, the Tax File Number and the 100 point bank identification system. He has provided similar services for many Federal Government organisations since 1994.

Terry Aulich will come in and discuss your organisations needs, conduct the PIA and provide a report which your organisation can use in its planning and compliance process.
